EXPENSE

Protecting your most valuable assets - your people - is the most fundamental part of your business. Understanding and mitigating travel risk for your employees is of utmost important to allow your team the time to prepare for or avoid the threats of traveling altogether. Pre-authorizing travel not only ensures that travel is necessary, within budget and in compliance with policy, but also provides an opportunity to understand the risk level of the travel destination.

Chrome River's latest partnership with WorldAware allows customers to integrate city-specific risk data into their travel approval process. Travelers can simply enter the city where they will be traveling to, and Chrome River can automatically poll WorldAware's database of more than 2,200 locations, and provide a real-time, 1-5 risk rating based on a variety of natural and man-made risks. This data can then be used in the pre-approval process to escalate the approval level based on risk rating. With Chrome River and WorldAware, global organizations can both ensure travelers' safety while on the road and make life easier for them by delivering an intuitive expense management solution.

Prepare

With world-class intelligence and actionable insights from WorldAware, you and your travelers can be proactive on whether or not to travel to certain parts of the world. Establish strong policies with these insights to restrict travel.
Monitor

Gain visibility into ongoing global threats and how they affect your travelers. With this insight, you can minimize or avoid risks for your travelers to ensure their safety.

Respond

Know where your travelers are at all times to minimize exposure of danger. Create protocols unique to your organization's needs to manage risk.

Pre Approval Risk Ratings

Leverage City-specific Data

Travelers simply need to enter the city they will be traveling to and Chrome River can quickly leverage this data from WorldAware's database of over 2,200 locations.

Utilize Risk Ratings

Chrome River provides a real-time, 1-5 risk rating based on city data including a wide variety of natural and man-made risks.

Keep Your Travelers Compliant

Leverage compliance rules to allow travel based on risk ratings or to display warning messages appropriate to the level of risk.

Seamless Approval Routing

Apply routing rules based on the risk rating to appropriate individuals within your organization that need visibility to travel locations and associated risks.
